

WHAT IS ZULAFLY?

ZulaFly's primary goal is to protect your people and assets in a way no other system can. That's why we created Fuzion, a unique solution providing Staff Safety, Patient and Resident Locating, Asset Tracking and Management, Temperature Monitoring, and Mobility across multiple industries.

We are taking the power of GPS to your place of business. Have you considered the value of a GPS & Real-Time Locating System in your workplace so you know where things are inside and outside of the facility? Your people and assets are far too valuable to leave their security to chance. Fuzion adds peace of mind and efficiency to your business.

What sets ZulaFly apart? Consider this example: Fuzion can alert when a vehicle is moving during off hours, while providing location information on people and equipment inside the facility and capital assets at a job site. While there are companies that offer RTLS or GPS, ZulaFly is unique in that we offer one platform that does both.

Additionally, our solution provides staff members with a badge that has a button press fitting easily on your lanyard. Pushing the button sends an email, text, or push notification to anyone inside or outside the facility in real-time, letting the recipient know who is asking for help and where they are located.

The team at ZulaFly understands when your people and assets are protected, your bottom line is too. Asset tracking tags placed on equipment reduce theft, over-purchasing and also saves time spent locating items.

Platform that Works.

Fuzion is a real-time data gathering system that integrates data from other systems and presents it in a customizable, easy-to-use interface. Much of the data consists of real-time locating systems (RTLS), RFID and GPS data. At the same time, any external data source that provides a means to export data can be incorporated. The non-industry specific platform design allows for customization based on specific needs and workflow. Fuzion provides the ability to report on all data that is collected and flexibility to tailor the verbiage in the solution to match your own.

Protect your people. Preserve your assets. Save time and money. ZulaFly knows what matters most to you. We'd love to build a relationship with you and discover how our versatile system maximizes the potential of your business.
